June 24, 1987

I had the personal privilege of sharing the presentation of a class with Greg McBride. The class, "Teens-Strange and Wonderful Creatures," was presented at the 1987 annual Washington State PTA Convention, as 1 of 50 classes offered for over 1200 attendees. Greg presented the "body" of the class, my role was a supplemental one.

Over 185 parents and teachers attended the class. Evaluations were turned in by 147. The evaluation scale went from 1 - very dissatisfied up to 5 - very satisfied. 92% evaluated the class as a 5 (or better!). The "Teens-Strange and Wonderful Creatures" class was the most outstanding class held at the convention.

The following are some excerpts from the actual evaluations:

Excellent speaker
Outstanding presenter
Entertaining and informative
Excellent, quality, knowledgable speaker
A great actor and speaker!
The entire convention should hear him as the key note speaker
The best class of convention
This one class worth the entire convention registration fee
Wonderful class - love his sense of humor
The speaker really knew what is happening with teens
Greg is a talented, warm, interesting, wonderful speaker

I would highly recommend Greg McBride as a presenter to any parent group. His positive contributions would be highly regarded.

Sincerely,

Darlene Siegel
